SUMMARY: Ordinance 808, Part 5, Signs, does not include electrical inspections as part of sign regulations and sign permit approvals. The City is looking to accommodate inspections of signs that require illumination in their design. Building Safety inspects the electrical feeds to the signs but the sign itself is not inspected. Due to the specialized electrical components that some illuminated signs require, Sign Inspectors are trained for this purpose since high voltage electrical components are involved within this type of signs. City of Phoenix has been doing electrical inspections on illuminated signs for a long time. Their knowledge and training on this field has helped City of Tempe sign staff change inspection procedures when dealing with illuminated signs. This Ordinance 808 text amendment, Part 5, Signs, would allow City Sign Inspectors to start implementing field inspection procedures as it relates to illumination signs. The requested Ordinance 808 text changes are critical to the overall quality of final sign inspections therefore staff recommends approval. On June 26, Planning Commission approved this request on their consent agenda. To date, no public input has been received.

COMMENTS: Ordinance 808, Part 5, Signs, does not include electrical inspections as part of sign regulations and sign permit approvals. The City is looking to accommodate inspections of signs that require illumination in their design.

Building Safety inspects the electrical feeds to the signs but the sign itself is not inspected. Due to the specialized electrical components that some illuminated signs require, Sign Inspectors are trained for this purpose since high voltage electrical components are involved within this type of signs. City of Phoenix has been doing electrical inspections on illuminated signs for a long time. Their knowledge and training on this field has helped City of Tempe sign staff change inspection procedures when dealing with illuminated signs.

This Ordinance 808 text amendment, Part 5, Signs, would allow City Sign Inspectors to start implementing field inspection procedures as it relates to illuminated signs. The requested Ordinance 808 text changes are critical to the overall quality of final sign inspections therefore staff recommends approval. To date, no public input has been received.
